

Impact100 Martin Grant Guidelines

We recognize the important work being done by nonprofit organizations in improving the lives of people in our community. To support this work and encourage organizations to “THINK BIG”, Impact100 Martin annually awards a grant of $100,000 to a nonprofit that provides services for Martin County.

Consistent with our mission, Impact100 Martin funds grants that have a profound and transformative effect on the receiving organizations and the populations they serve. Grant requests may be made for: a new program/project; expansion of an existing proven program; or a collaborative effort between two or more organizations to address a broader spectrum of the community.

The grant parameters are determined yearly by the Grants Committee, which consists of volunteer members of Impact100 Martin. There are no restrictions on focus areas this year. Grant applications will be accepted for all fields of interest.

Grant Process

- PHASE 1 - All nonprofit organizations serving Martin County are invited to submit a letter of intent (LOI) clearly articulating a compelling program or project that addresses a critical problem or need in Martin County and the intended impact.
- PHASE 2 - Organizations are selected to submit full grant applications and site visits presentations.
- PHASE 3 – Finalists are selected to present their proposals to the entire membership to vote on at the April Grants Awards Celebration. The organization(s) with the most votes receives the Impact Grant(s).

Helpful Hints for Submitting a LOI

- Pay attention to the length of your submission. There is a character limit for your answers. If you go over the character limit, the system will notify you by turning the characters that are over the limit red and your LOI cannot be submitted.
- Ensure your responses specifically answer each question. Avoid including extraneous information. Remember “less is best”.
- Avoid acronyms and jargon. If you must use an acronym, please identify it in the beginning of the LOI or grant application so the reviewer can easily understand your response(s).
- Avoid cutting and pasting any responses from other applications; but if you do, please make sure that the application reads in one voice. It should not read as if multiple parties contributed to the text.
- Before submitting, please reread and check for accuracy, adherence to guidelines, and spelling.
